Profile of the Contributors

Danë GOODSMAN is a senior lecturer at Barts and The London School of Medicine and Dentistry, Queen Mary and City University, London, UK. She has been actively involved in medical education as a non-clinical educational specialist, and has contributed so much in Interprofessional Education (IPE), teacher education for clinicians and academics and pre-hospital care programmes for undergraduates. Her recent book as a co-author is “Being Interprofessional” (Polity Press, 2009).

Geoff WYKURZ has a board experience as an educator and a community worker in the fields of medical education and community development in UK and abroad. Within his current portfolio of activity he leads Enhancing Clinical Teaching through Observation and Reflection (ECTOR) program at London Deanery. He also delivers classes for MA in Clinical Education at Institute of Education, University of London and MA in Community Development at University of Westminster.

Machiko SHIBAHARA is a postgraduate student at Graduate School of Education, Kyoto University. She has been working on the historical study on the learning activities of lower-middle class women in occupation/profession in Victorian Britain. Also, she is also involved in the joint comparative research of medical/clinical education in UK and Japan.

Kenichiro SHIRATO (白戸健一郎) is a graduate student of media study, Graduate School of Education, Kyoto University. He is studying the history of broadcasting cultural policy in Manchukuo and Modern Japan.

Tomoko MATSUNAGA (松永智子) is a graduate student of media study, Graduate School of Education, Kyoto University. She is studying the history of English-language newspapers in Modern Japan. Mr. Shirato and Ms. Matsunaga have been involved in the academic exchange program of media studies with Information and Communication Institute, Sogang University in Korea, since 2009.

Notes to Contributors

Lifelong Education and Libraries (LE & L) is a refereed annual journal that publishes original research and review articles in the disciplines of lifelong education and library science.

LE&L is published by the Division of Lifelong Education and Library Science in Kyoto University's Graduate School of Education with financial assistance from the school.

We welcome submissions from international scholars in English, although other languages besides Japanese may be considered if they are author's native language.

Papers that have already appeared or are under consideration elsewhere will not be accepted.

Guideline for Articles

1. Manuscripts should be typed with double-spaced lines on one side of numbered A4 or 8.5 by 11-inch size paper.
2. Each copy should include a separate cover sheet containing the title of manuscript, the name(s) of the author(s) as well as his/her institutional affiliation(s), and the street address, telephone, fax, and electronic mail address of the corresponding senior author for use by the editorial and production offices.
3. Along with the written papers, authors should submit a disk prepared in Word for windows (PC), or other similar program, containing the complete paper, (including tables, figures, and illustrations). The disk is for on-line reviewing.
4. The deadline for submission of manuscripts intended for publication in March is the end of October.
5. A copy of the paper of permission for the use of previously published material (e.g. long extracts and reproductions of figures) should be included.
6. Articles should not be more than 10,000 words in length; including footnotes.
7. All articles should be original and should not be under consideration elsewhere. All rights reserved.
8. In addition to the article, contributors should send an abstract summarizing the main points of the article and a brief biographical note about the author.
9. Submit three copies of the manuscript and one diskette to:
Lifelong Education and Libraries
Graduate School of Education,
Kyoto University, 606-8501 Japan
